HARD FIGHTING IN RUSSIA BEYOND RIGA

Germans May Be Seeking to Open Path to Petrograd

RAIDING IN WEST

Have British Been Repulsed in New Offensive in Flanders?

Increased activity is noticeable on the various fighting fronts, especially near Riga and on the Isonzo. A stubborn battle is in progress near the Zegoveld farm, on the Riga-Pskof road, thirty miles northeast of Riga. Whether the action is a German attempt in force or only a feint is uncertain. Petrograd, however, reports that the Russians are valiantly repelling attacks.

On the Bainsizza plateau, northeast of Gorizia, and in the region of Monte San Gabriele, the Italians on Saturday advanced their lines on the southeast edge.

In Champagne and in the Vermandois region, the German crown prince has made ineffectual attacks against the French lines. Northwest of Reims, the French repulsed a strong German attack in the region of Loivre. Northeast of Verdun, on the right bank of the Meuse, the French fire drove back the Germans who essayed an attack north of the Caurelles wood.

British troops in a successful raid into the German lines near Charsijs, southeast of Arros, wrecked dugouts. Berlin officially gave in this effort an attack in force and announces its repulse with heavy losses. In Flanders, Berlin admits the success of a local British attack on the Ypres-Mensin road.

Stockholm Conference.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 16.—After conferences with the Russian delegates who have returned from their mission to London and Paris, the organizing committee of the Stockholm conference, in a report on the present situation, declares that the conference has not been abandoned, but on the contrary, that "a date will be fixed as soon as transports difficulties are overcome." The Russian delegation is still convinced that the working classes of Great Britain, France and Italy are unanimous in favor of the conference because they believe that a stable peace can only be reached by a common concerted effort on the part of the proletariat of the entire world.

The conference has been postponed probably until next year, according to the Aftonbladet.

PACIFISTS HOLD RIOTOUS MEETING

Denounce President and War; Man and Woman Arrested

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 16.—Riot scenes marked a meeting here today of the Hartford branch of the People's Council of America for Democracy and Peace, culminating in the arrest of the speaker, Mrs. Annie R. Hale of New York, the chairman, Alfred E. Whitehead of this city, and the abrupt ending of the meeting by the police. Police action was taken after Mrs. Hale had criticized the President and the war, condemned conscription and declared the United States had no right to go abroad to fight Germany because of a belief that "fifty years hence" Germany might make war on this country.

When Mrs. Hale was ordered to stop, there was an excited rush by the audience for the platform, one man shaking his fist at the speaker, declared she had insulted the President.

Mrs. Hale and Whitehead were taken to police headquarters where they were charged with breach of peace and held for hearing in $500 bonds each.

SERIOUS BLAZE IN SAN DIEGO FOREST

Many Volunteer to Save Homes of Ranchers Around Palomar

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 16.—A serious forest fire, developing from what was thought at first to be a harmless brush blaze, swept today across the top of Palomar mountain, well known pleasure resort, in the eastern part of San Diego county.

Men from the forest service, with volunteers from Warner's Oak Grove, Angels' Camp and other sections near Palomar, were fighting the flames this evening, to prevent them from spreading to the homes of ranchers and樵夫, many of which are in the valley around Palomar.

The fire took hold up over the west side of the mountains and came down on the east, throwing off dense clouds of smoke as it raged through the heavy timber. It started in the Los Jule Indian reservation.

ALL CLOCKS IN ENGLAND SET BACK ONE HOUR

LONDON, Sept. 16.—England's "Summer time" ended officially at 3 o'clock this morning, when all clocks were set back one hour and the country returned to the observance of normal Greenwich time.

NEW WAGE SCALES FOR NAVY YARDS

Lower Grades Are Specifically Given Increase in Earnings

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Completion of new wage scales for all navy yards and arsenals was announced today by the special joint war-military committee. The revision, which becomes effective as soon as new pay rolls can be prepared, is said to make an average increase in the maximum rates of nearly 10 per cent, and much greater advances in the scale for the lowest grades of skilled labor.

The committee examined local rates and was guided to a great extent by the aim to make the rates as nearly uniform in all sections of the country as circumstances would allow.

"In regard to the new navy yard scale," says the announcement, "the most important change is the reduction in number of rates in any one trade in three. Therefore any skilled laborer has been grouped into five rates: the men in the lowest rates receiving often more than unskilled labor. Hereafter there will be but three rates; the lowest, to be paid not more than $1.04 per diem less than the first class men. For instance, if the top rate for machinists is $1.34 a day, the third rate must be at least $1.36, instead of as at present in some cases, as low as $3.04."

The increase given in the maximum rates will be found to average nearly 10 per cent. In some cases the recommendation of the local navy yard, as in the case of some trades at Puget Sound, have been slightly reduced in view of the abnormal situation in that locality, which is out of line with the rest of the nation; the scale given by the committee shows, nevertheless, an actual larger percentage of increase and a higher maximum of pay than in any other navy yard on either coast. In other cases, notably Mare Island and New York, the increases given are greater than the recommendations by the local yards.

The committee has approved the recommendations of the commanding officers at the arsenals. At certain of the arsenals in certain trades their remain appeals on which no decision has been reached. It is the intention of the committee to visit the arsenals in person or to send representatives to adjust all outstanding questions.

RADICALS INSIST ON THEIR PROGRAM

Maximalists at Petrograd Repass Demand for Reforms

PETROGRAD, Sept. 16.—At a plenary session of the Petrograd council of soldiers and workers' deputies today, which was attended by soldiers who were absent from the previous meeting, there were repassed the Maximalist resolutions adopted yesterday, putting forward an extremely radical program demanding exclusion of private property, the immediate declaration of socialism, etc.

The delegation also adopted a resolution setting forth that the tragic situation of the country made necessary the constitution of a strong revolutionary power free from all control, with the counter-revolutionary bourgeois elements, and announcing they had decided to convocate immediately a general conference of representatives of the whole organized democracy for the settlement of the question of constituting a power capable of leading the country until the time the constituent assembly convenes.

The people are called on to await patiently the summoning of the conference and to abstain from arbitrary or illegal acts.

Act for All Russia

The central committee of the executive committee of the council and the executive committee of the peasant delegation at a joint meeting last night voted approval of the overwhelming majority of Premier Kerensky's latest move, which had distinctly improved the prospects for the survival of the new cabinet of five. These two organizations represent the workmen-soldiers and peasants all over the empire, while the Petrograd council of soldiers and workers' deputies and the Bolshevik majority of which yesterday made impossible demands. They are the nearest thing to a parliament which Russia possesses.

Notwithstanding an attack on Premier Kerensky by delegates who denounced him as an irresponsible dictator, the sentiment of the meeting was emphatically in favor of the government.

The cabinet of five, however, needs to hold together only until September 25, when a new responsible ministry will be appointed. Meanwhile the cabinet is preparing to make concessions to the left. It has tried, but not yet signed, a decree abolishing the

IRON UNIONISTS TO GO OUT ON STRIKE TODAY

Effort of Federal Agent to Delay Action Fails

PLANTS TO CLOSE

Men Hitherto Exempted for Industrial Reasons Must Go Into Army

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—Twenty-four thousand members of the San Francisco Iron Trades Council, employed mainly on Government shipbuilding contracts, will go on strike tomorrow for an increase in wages, following the failure of a series of conferences today between the leaders of the workmen and representatives of the employers to arrive at a satisfactory settlement of the issue.

The final conference was held at the suggestion of James Lee Ackerson, special representative of the United States shipping board. At its conclusion the skilled laborers said they could not postpone the strike.

Ackerson suggested that a settlement might be arranged through conferences with Government officials conducting similar negotiations in the Seattle shipbuilding strike, and that the strike be postponed pending the outcome of these conferences. R. W. Burton, president of the Iron Trades Council, said a postponement was impossible.

Anounced plans for the strike call upon all men to report for work as usual. At 9 a.m. they will walk out, but no agreement has been reached. Both sides said the promulgation of a new agreement was improbable before that time.

The California Metal Trades Association, the employers' organization, announced that the plants would be closed after the walkout and no attempt would be made to operate with substitute workers.

Conferences between representatives of the men and the employers will continue despite the strike. It was announced the first of these will be held tomorrow, with Ackerson presiding.

After a working agreement of union of all firms with the Iron Trades Council expired last night, conferences look forward to the reaching of a new agreement, but the走道 has not been reached. The men demand a minimum wage of $6 a day, an advance of 50 per cent. An offered increase of 10 per cent was rejected. It was estimated that 90 per cent of the 24,000 men ordered to strike were engaged in Government shipbuilding.

The statement of the employers said:

"We have determined, that inasmuch as the United States government would be the principal sufferer from the strike, on account of the cessation of the work, it should be the one to adjudicate the points at issue, and we would abide by its findings. The plan has apparently not met with the approval of the Iron trades council, and we regret that they feel a strike should be called."

Army Exemptions

Applications for exemption from service in the selective draft armories on occupational grounds, which have been made by the Union Iron Works on behalf of 800 employees, will be withdrawn, because of the ordered strike. It was announced late tonight by J. J. Tynan, general manager of the concern. This action was to the federal district board and will apply not only to those employees whose applications are pending, but also to those men that have been granted exemptions already, said Tynan.

No request for federal troops to guard the plants affected was contemplated, said members of the employers' conference committee tonight. It was explained that because of the large volume of government work in process of construction, federal authorities might throw guards around the plants on their initiative.

The people are called on to await patiently the summoning of the conference and to abstain from arbitrary or illegal acts.

TEN MEN TO FLY IN GREAT PLANE ON ATLANTIC COAST

HAMPTON, Va., Sept. 16.—Plans for a flight from Hampton to New York in which Lieutenant Resnati will carry ten men in the large Italian airplane which he brought to this country, were announced today after a conference of British, French, Italian and American leaders of flying corps at the training field here. The flight will be made, this Friday, probably (Saturday or Friday).

The conference was devoted to discussion of methods of improving American and allied airplanes. Adoption of a standard machine for use by all the allies was discussed, as was a suggestion for a flight from here to San Francisco as a test of the possibility of trans-Atlantic flights.

REPORT GERMANY HAS REPLIED TO POPE BENEDICT

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Dr. Richard Von Kuschnitzki, the German foreign secretary, who is now visiting King Ludwig at Munich, called on the papal nuncio and handed him Germany's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposal Saturday evening, according to the Berlin Local Anzeiger.

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—The German foreign office is still without direct news from Count Luxburg at Buenos Aires and is endeavoring to reach the minister through the Argentine legation here. Berlin newspapers of all political factions unite in their condemnation of Luxburg.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 16.—Foreign Minister Pueyrredon informed the Associated Press today that he is satisfied that the excommunication of Count Luxburg, the German minister to Argentina, has not closed the incident growing out of the telegrams the minister sent to Berlin through the Swedish legation here.

Minister Pueyrredon declared that the Argentine government intends to energetically, but not precipitately, in upholding the honor of the republic and to close the present incident favorably.

The Argentine government has sent cables to Dr. Luis B. Molina, minister at Berlin, concerning the negotiations but no official response has yet been received. The foreign minister believes the delay is due to difficulties of transmission and the censorship.

The foreign minister said he believed Germany would make concessions to retain the friendship of Argentina, but explained that friendship between the two countries will end unless the republic obtains the assurances and franchises desired.

The war deficiency bill probably will pass the House of Commons Tuesday and the Senate Wednesday. The Senate will then meet to consider the bill, already passed by the House, and this will be followed by the Welsh oil land leasing bill.

The deficiency measure may dispense one of these. The insurance bill is being given committee consideration and probably will be reported late this week.

The House committee appointed to investigate defective ammunition will begin its hearings tomorrow with a number of employees, including inspectors and chemists, of the Frankford arsenal, called as witnesses.

Pan-Germans Irritated

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 16.—The Pan-German newspapers, which have taken the stand that the remainder of the German press to digest Count Luxburg's famous dispatches to the German foreign office through the Swedish legation in Argentina, complain of the count's lack of discretion and caution, and indeed appear to be very cross with every one concerned. The newspaper, Tageszeitung, of Berlin, says it was not absolutely necessary for the count to announce by cable that he regarded the Argentines as a notorious ass. It thinks it might have said later.

The comment in the Tageszeitung is distinguished from the rest by absence of any attempt to explain away Count Luxburg's reference to "such a wretched, traitor, trash." The count merely fumes because the Argentine warfare had not been guided strictly and unchangeably by the proclamation of the barred zone.

The Kreis Zeitung, like several other newspapers, explains Count Luxburg's famous expression as meaning that persons in life boats were to be taken on board submarines instead of being left off enemy coasts.

Swedish Politics

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 16.—The losses of the Conservatives in the election apparently are not affecting the conservative press. The Aftonbladet asks if it is impossible to unite the Swedish people so as to give a resolute "no" to the Entente which, it says, seek to interfere in Swedish affairs. The newspaper opposes a change in the ministry, saying that in such an event Sweden would soon suffer the fate of Greece by becoming a mere mecan boy for foreign powers.

As far as the Washington disclosures regarding the employment by the German minister to Mexico of the former Swedish chargé d'affaires at Mexico City, Folke Cronholm, to convey information to the Berlin foreign office, the newspaper says:

"This is merely a part of the threats against us, with no foundation for accusations against our present leader of foreign affairs."

Wireless Canceled

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 16.—The government has withdrawn permission granted to a German wireless company to attempt to receive wireless messages from the German station at Nauen.

The German wireless service, consisting largely of messages from the semi-official Oriovosa news agency, which was sent to this country through the Say谎 station before the entrance of the United States into the war, is distributed from Nauen. It has been reported on several occasions since the United States and Germany several relations that information was being sent to Germany by wireless from South Africa.

INVOLVED IN RAID

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 16.—For the second time since the Villa raid on Columbus of May, 1916, men convicted of participating in that raid have been brought to the state penitentiary here. The latest arrivals are seventeen Mexicanians who pleaded guilty at Silver City to second degree murder, and were sentenced to from twenty to eighty years in the penitentiary.

AGED FRESNAN IS CALLED BY DEATH

J. H. LaRue died last night at his residence, 421 Blackstone avenue. He was 34 years of age, a native of Kentucky, and had lived in Fresno county for the past thirty-one years. He was a vineyardist. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Helen C. LaRue, and three sons, H. W., H. H. and S. R. LaRue, all of Fresno, three grandchildren and ten great grandchildren.

Funeral will be held from Stephens and Stein's funeral chapel at 2:30 p. m. on Tuesday. Interment at Mountain View Cemetery.

UNITARIAN PASTOR, REV. RUESS, RESIGNS

Plans to Go Into Business, and Leaves Soon for East

Has Been Efficient Director of Fresno Church Over Two Years

REV. C. G. RUESS

Rev. Christopher Ruess of the First Unitarian church at the close of the morning service yesterday presented his resignation as minister of the Unitarian churches in Fresno, Stanford, Reedley, Dinuba and Clovis, to take effect at the close of the present month. The resignation will be considered by the trustees during the week and by the church after the service next Sunday. The letter of resignation follows:

"To the Trustees, Members and Friends of the Unitarian Church in Fresno, Stanford, Reedley, Dinuba and Clovis:

"Your minister hereby respectfully resigns his position and asks that the three months' notice provided for between the Fresno church and its minister be waived in order that he may be enabled to leave Fresno for the East at the end of this September month."

"At this time your minister wishes to thank you each and all and many others outside our church for the privilege of service that has been during the two and a half years that he has occupied the Fresno pulpit—not only the privilege of ministry, personal fellowship and friendship, but the great privilege in quiet and in public places of having done something for the larger life of the community."

"This service, however, has of necessity been at a financial loss to himself, and it was to make up that loss that your minister this summer laid aside the role of clergyman and assumed again the role of statesman, which he once played, seventeen years ago. As a result he has discovered that his time and energy are worth not twice, but several times as much in business service as in the service of the church. His obligation to his immediate family, to relatives, and to his future power and opportunity to serve require that he accept the opening now presented to him."

"For fourteen years since leaving the university, two years in settlement work in fire and earthquake relief work, eight years in juvenile court and adult probation work and four years in the ministry of the church, my minister at relatively low salaries has been a volunteer enlisted in serving in the regular army, the delightful author of 'The Complaint Angler,' who so employed his time that after he was 50 years old he was able to devote the remaining forty years of his life without wages or salary to public service, writing books and letters.

"My minister leaves the Unitarian work in Fresno and the South San Joaquin valley with its people united, its place

Problems of the Year Discussed by Noted Physician in Conducting New Year Service for Jewish People

The Jewish religious new year opened yesterday, the day called Rosh ha Shana, observed not as a civil but as a religious festival, the initial service being held at W. O. W. hall with Dr. L. G. Reynolds, of Los Angeles, as conductor and speaker for the occasion.

The observance of the right observances of the holy days of the church to which Jehovah gave the name, and of the writers of the Jewish faith has this to say:

Modern Jews use the civil calendar for all ordinary purposes, but date their feasts and fasts according to the moon. Orthodox observers still observe two days for the New Year to make a distinction between the inhabitants of Palestine and all others, but the modern Jew has returned to a single day. This day begins at sunset—a mode of reckoning that is supported, traditionally, by the Biblical story of creation, in which the evening is mentioned before the morning. The year is 5757, counting from the traditional time of the creation of the world.

The Bible enjoins the celebration of the New Year in the book of Leviticus, chapter 23, and Numbers, chapter 29. The chief rite is the blowing of the trumpet or ram's horn, which is observed in this synagogues. The ceremonial of the day is very impressive; it includes prayers of ancient and medieval origin, elaborate music and the reading of the account of Abraham's sacrifice of Isaac. The greeting of the season is Leshana tova ukosav. May you be inscribed in the book of life for a good year."

The lesson of the New Year is that men review the past year and look forward to the coming year. The future, "This shall be Shana," and also the "Day of Judgment." The influence of religion on character, the significance of the flight of time, the suggestion of a large-scoped view of life, are the themes of the prayers and thought of Hoshanah Rabba.

The month of Tishri in the festival season of the Jewish calendar after the "New Year" come the fast days of penitence, the Day of Atonement, and finally, the Harvest festival, the Feast of Tabernacles. This holy season is universally observed by Jews, stirring in them impulses for renewed vigor in their religious and moral life.

Taking as his subject: "The Problems of the Year," Dr. Reynolds reviewed the events that mark the recent world history, in the making from day to day, the unfolding of an issue leading up to that point, in view when "The year shall be full of the waters over the land even as the water covered the deep."

The speaker said in part:

"Never in the history of the world has man faced such grave and difficult problem as he is facing today. All the great and civilized nations of the world are holding one another in a tight and deadly embrace. Only savagery and semi-civilized humanity is at peace."

Aside from the fact that the problems in themselves are very complex and bewildering, there is the added difficulty of the human mind, which is to grapple with them all being clouded and bogged with all the imperialistic mists of racial hatred, injustice, and unconquerable vindictiveness. Again, these problems will and cannot be solved by the governments which are usually composed of mature and experienced men. These problems will have to be solved by the peoples who are yet young and immature, nay, who are yet in their very infancy as regards education, experience and ever self-consciousness. This will-night universal war is fast becoming a people's war; for this war represents one of the last or perhaps the last gaps in the dying agony of now-erful, highly organized, privileged class authority."

Struggle for Supremacy.

In a war in which the lords of the earth, feeling the odors of a nascent democracy within their nostril, are making a supreme effort to retain their vanishing authority and to hold the ground which is fast slipping from under their feet. From out the debris and the caverns of the ruined old cities and over the bodies of the millions of slain men, resound the pang cries of mighty universal tragedies.

Democracy is being born. Not the old spurious colonial democracy nor even the so-called modern democracy which in reality is only a plutocracy, but the true genuine democracy of which the Jewish sages and prophets have dreamed and spoken so long ago.

The democracy which truly means a government by the people—not a people trodden under the feet of one despotic, nor coerced by the threats of many despots, but a people truly sovereign, self-conscious and towering in authority over "single" or "rivalry" representation.

The problems that face us are many and difficult. Yet it is not so much the willingness and the energy to solve them that we lack, but much more the ability to understand and to correctly analyze them that we need.

Intellectually, in other words, is more intellectual than physical. The masses have been kept in ignorance too long; they have been deceived so many times. They have been made to believe that war was in reality an effect, to be looked upon as the cause.

In other words, they have been bamboozled. When the lords of the earth began to realize that brute force was out of date and inapplicable, they made use of the more subtle, but none the less, dangerous weapon of mental deception.

They diverted the people's mind from the essential to the non-essential, from the cause to the effect. As a result, enormous energies were frantically dissipated, forces were needlessly directed, and misguided and gigantic efforts criminally misapplied.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A dispatch from The Hague o Reuter's Limited states that information has been received from German headquarters that the export of coal to Holland is being resumed.

Dr. T. M. Hayden, chairman of the city board of health, and Dr. C. Mathewson, city health officer, yesterday made an inspection of the Universal Packing Company plant on the state highway south of the city. Members of the board of health, with the health committee from the board of trustees, had planned to make an inspection trip of a number of packing plants, but as several of the doctors could not go, it was decided to postpone the trip. So Dr. Hayden and Mathewson went to the new packing plant south of the city.

Dr. Mathewson said last night that the plant was a revelation to him, and that it was without a doubt the most modern and up-to-date plant on the Pacific coast. He said that the plant, more than met all of the sanitary requirements and had every feature embodied that was suggested in the last pamphlet sent out by the State Board of Health.

Father's Work of First Import

—Normal Methodist Episcopal

Rev. Dr. J. H. Hodges

Preaching from his pulpit at the Normal Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning, the Rev. Dr. J. H. Hodges, pastor, gave his people a most earnest exposition along the lines of Christian duty and privilege. The speaker had for his text the words of the Great Teacher found in the gospel of Luke 2:49: "Whist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

Dr. Hodges said in part:

We know very little about the early days of Jesus. There was no historian interested in the child at Bethany. We have a record of his birth; of his flight into Egypt; of his return and his settling down at Nazareth. Beyond this we know nothing of the early days of Jesus with the exception of one incident which occurred when he was a boy of 12 years of age.

It was the custom of Jewish parents to take their boys when they reached the age of 12 to the Passover at Jerusalem. Joseph and Mary took Jesus there three weeks. Many things that attracted the young Nazarene, the Temple being the chief among them. When the seven days of the Passover were accomplished, Joseph and Mary started with their friends for home. Jesus tarried in the city without the knowledge of his people, and it was the third day before they found him in the temple sitting with the great divines. His mother said to him, "Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? We have sought thee sorrowing." Jesus answered in the words of our text, "How is it that ye sought me? Why ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" No one understood the answer, but Mary had a mother's great heart, where she kept his saying.

Thank God for such mothers, who though they understand not the realization in the child have open hearts to receive the divine guidance.

Life of Great Purpose

Christ's life was one with a purpose. Prophets tell us of it. His need to crush the head of the serpent, and thus to make justice and justice supreme. Isaiah tells us the government is to be acquired with grief; on him the iniquity of all is to be laid. That is, the purpose of the Christ is to govern, to sympathize, to relieve.

The angels declared His purposefulness. To Joseph they said, "Thou shalt call him Jesus, for He shall save His people," and to the shepherds, "Behold the birth of a Saviour!" History proves that Christ Himself never forgot the purpose for which He came. We constantly hear Him saying, "Mine hour is not yet come," although His life was so fully planned in detail that every hour of His work, and every work its hour, talking with Zacchaeus. He said, "The Son of Man comes to seek and to save that which was lost." Ever before Him was the great task of His life.

The result of that purposefulness is that His life was a great success. Many apparent failures are recorded for Christ and Christianity, but we have to wait to see the full working out of right principles and thought. Christianity of today with all its institutions for uplifting men testifies to the success. John Stewart Mill.

Christianity came as a sufficient influence in the orient.

For ceremonialism on the one hand and sentimental mysticism on the other, should be rejected, a religion of action. Men should be judged that they were taught by the deeds of good and of evil that they had done. Had the Hebrews accepted this religion they would have had a faith that could have abundantly blessed them. But in many respects it fell far short of their old faith.

From the Beginning

To Zarathustra it seemed that there were two persons in this world. These had both existed from the beginning. Each one was a creator. Zarathustra was the person of light and truth. Ahuramazda was the person of darkness. The history of the world was the history of the warfare of these two powers. Such was the dualistic philosophy of the people among whom the Hebrew exiles lived.

The relation of the Hebrews to this dualism which excluded God from half the universe is expressed in the words of the psalmist:

"Whither shall I go from thy spirit?

"Or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

"If I ascend into heaven thou art there;

"If I make my bed in hell, thou art there;

"If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,

"Even there shall thy hand lead me and thy right hand shall hold me.

A Seeing Invisible

No where in any literature is there a finer expression of belief in the universality of God's reign. Their literature shows us that the Hebrews during the time of their exile and humiliation, lived on the highest spiritual heights. Out of the deepest darkness this most glorious light shone forth.

Martyrdom seems to be a necessary condition of greatness in individual character. Exile and persecution and trial are only the weaker forms; they strengthen the strong. Out of a great trial, says Hugo, the weak camp famous and the strong sublime. Weak men and weak nations yield before threats of suffering, and, seeking the line of least resistance become subservient to their environment. Strong men and nations are made stronger by persecution. Even does their real worth show itself so strongly as in the day of their apparent defeat. In general, it is true that the crucified, not the crucifiers, prevail. Belgium and Armenia today are martyrs in a holy cause. Belgium martyred for her political, Armenia for her religious faith. But out of their dust and ashes they are to rise and testify in clear tones that their faith remains, and though ruined they are greater than ever before. "Those lever souls who left the world and set it in a better course, are they whose light shines in the darkness."

Although in Hell

The most interesting line of this great poem of the pessimist is that in which he says that if he makes his bed in hell, there he finds his God. This is the climax of an audacious faith.

"Hell is not indeed the right translation because the Hebrews knew nothing about such a place as we think of when we say "hell." The pessimist means the glory, shadowy place where dwelt the souls of the departed. It was not exactly a place of torture but it came the nearest being a hell of anything the Hebrews thought of. Here in this dark and gloomy and dismal place God dwelt.

This is the faith the world needs today. God dwells in the heavenly places, but also in the dark halls of this world. Hell is in the human heart.

There is no heart so black, no life so mean, but something of the spirit of God is there.

In Modern Perilance

Hell is in some of our modern cities where men have given up to semi-anarchy and crime. But God thinks too innocent in some of his ministering servants. Hell is in Europe today, but God is there also, leading men in paths of righteousness and doing and sustaining them when they are ready to faint.

"Duty," says Victor Hugo, "often calls men to go through hell—where they find God by their side." When death summons men to go through heaven or hell, if they do not, they will always find God by their side.

Story of Red Cross Is Effectively Told by Representative of Pacific Division at First Methodist Church

With the directress that carries abiding conviction and arouses cooperation, the story of the Red Cross, in the work room, in the home, in the training camp and at the front, was told last evening at the First Methodist Episcopal church.

The services were under the direction of the Rev. W. A. Bettis, president of the Fresno chapter, Red Cross, and George Waterman, chairman of the finance committee, Mrs. Louis Strohauer, director, with Mrs. Louis Strohauer and the choir.

The object of this meeting by Dr. Bettis and his people was the launching of a county-wide campaign for the increasing of the membership of the Red Cross, a work that is immediately under the direction of Mr. Waterman.

From the opening organ number by Mrs. Strohauer the appeal for just one more member for the organization that safeguards the lives and the interests of the soldier boys at the front and in the training camps, the service was of telling effectiveness, made peculiarly so by the range, the living up in the field Cross membership activity and for the distribution of the burden at present resting upon the few.

With this presentation, supplemented by the closing appeal by Dr. Bettis, George Waterman and his forces made the personal approach to each individual of the congregation, with the result of a very material increase for the membership of the Fresno chapter.

One of the peculiar pleasures of the evening was the musical program given by Mrs. Louis Strohauer and her company of vocalists constituting the choir of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

As an organist, Mrs. Strohauer ranks among the foremost artists of this western world and in her work as choir, director, she seems to have the ability to draw about her the voices that appeal and to put into them efforts something of the inspiration and effectiveness that characterize all of her work.

Apart from the introductory organ number, the musical program included the singing of the lines for the personal appeal in summary of results and the pointing of duty and of privilege.

Not were the utterances of Dr. Bettis of the conventional order. He spoke as one having authority and possessed of the vision that larges the substance of things hoped for and in the full evidence of things not seen.

And in it all, the speaker pointed the ministering hand of the Nazarene who, in his earthly activities set the example of sacrifice and helpfulness.

Mrs. Scott Tells Story

The special speaker for the evening, however, was Miss Margaret E. Scott, field representative of the American Red Cross, Pacific division, here in the line of duty and privilege.

WHAT WE FIGHT FOR

To "make the world free for democracy," to be sure. To protect the rights of small nations and to prevent the overthrow of great ones, and to vindicate our own honor against the ruthless autocracy which has made war on the world.

But all this is altruistic; it is going out of our way to defend the rights and protect the interests of others. Individually we do not fight all the wrongs around us, but only those that are our business. Internationally we let these wrongs persist and increase for nearly three years without regarding it as our business to right them. What made it our business?

For one thing, the danger grew until the peril of it already included us. The wrongs of Belgium and Serbia might concern us only in sympathy, and we might swallow our own injuries, if redressing them was a greater evil. But the sort of a world Germany was forging would have been a threat to us, too. We had either to resist Germany's ruthless war on us, or the sun or else submit to it. If we resisted, that constituted us in the war, and we had only to determine whether we would get clear in or hang on the edge. Unless we got clear in, Germany would win in Europe, and we would be the next victims, this time alone. The indemnity would have been collected from us the only fat pickings left. An unconditionally victorious Germany meant immediate menace and possible destruction for us. Since we should have to fight anyway, the time to fight was when we could help win.

And a deadlocked peace of exhaustion meant the same thing, perhaps a little postponed. A new world built on the basis of the old one, with an undefeated, militaristic Mittel-Europa in the midst of it, meant a mere taking of breath for the next struggle, with the certainty that after it the Kaiser would be emperor of the world, including ourselves. Unless that could be stopped now, and unless the world could be so reconstructed that it could never happen again, the democracy that the world was not safe for would be our democracy.

So, in defense not merely of an altruistic idealism, but of a world that would be practically safe to live in, we had nothing left but to join the world-union against Germany. We did not forget the former services of Germany to the world. Paradoxically, it was the unnamed ancient Germans who engrafted the principle of individual liberty on the ordered discipline of the Romans. To be sure, they overthrew Roman civilization, too, and made the world stand still for near a thousand years. It was they who, in disunion, adversity and defeat sounded the note of spirituality over the barren rationalism of the later eighteenth century. It was to them that Carlyle turned for inspiration, to arouse England from its materialism. It was their universities that modernized American education, and made us intellectually citizens of the world. It was their experience which was guiding us to a more socialized view of the relation of the individual and the state. All this the world had owed to the German people, mostly before there was any Germany. Much more, the world might expect from the German people, if their powers could again be turned to use instead of destruction. But in our time that people, compacted, disciplined and prepared, had been led on a path that meant the "destruction" of the world. While it meant the destruction of Europe only, we supinely watched Europe fight it out. When it became clear that had extended to mean the destruction of America also—near in one event and later in another—their choice was closed. The world was at bay, we with it. It was fight or yield.

So we are fighting.

STANDARD OF LIVING

The new wage schedules for navy yards and arsenals makes a much larger increase for the lower-paid workers than for the higher-paid.

This is, in a way, paternalistic. It reverses the rule of merely militant militarism, in which the increases go first to those best able to enforce them, who are the organized and already best paid. But it is nevertheless a just and important principle, to be applied at this time.

There is bound to be, and ought to be, a lowering of the American standard of living. But there ought to be no lowering at the bottom. Everywhere except at the bottom, the standard will be lowered, whether the wage-level is raised or not. A single individual may protect his living-standard by getting more money, provided others do not get more. But all individuals together can not get more when there is no more to get, no matter how high the average money income goes. There is going to be less food to eat. Therefore, less food will have to be eaten, whether money is plenty or scarce. There is going to be less wool. Therefore there will be fewer woolen clothes, even if everybody wages go up. The living standards of the wealthy will have to go down by economies, voluntary or enforced. The living standards of the better-paid will have to go down, because their wages, even if increased, will buy less—and this regardless of how high they are increased, if it is done generally. But the living standards at the bottom must not go down.

The only way to prove that is to give those at the bottom more than their share of money, so that they may get their share of food. Whenever inccrease there is, they must get more than their proportion of it. Their wages must "keep pace with the high cost of living." Other people can't, because the cost of living, or some other restriction, would have to keep them from catching up with the standard of living. Anyway, there is not going to be enough to go around, on the old basis. There must be enough to go around to the bottom ones, on the old basis, or better. Therefore all the rest of them must have less than the old basis—less in things that is—no matter what we have in money.

Raise wages, then, at the bottom, to keep fully up with the high cost of living. Equalize wages, profits and self-restraint, so that the necessary lowering of the standard of living everywhere else shall be equitably distributed. But recognize that when there is less food, less wool, and less steel and the things that steel means, the standard of living can not stay up. It would go down even under a Socialistic distribution which abolishes money and wages entirely. When there is less meat, we must either eat less, or else the bottom man gets none, and he must have some!

HIGH PITCH PARTIES

Apparently there are three parties in Russia—the Conservatives, about as radical as our Progressives; the Moderates, about as radical as our Socialists, and the Radicals, who do our anarchists.

It is all a matter of standards. The deepest part of a "dark" spot on the sun is brighter than an arc light. The lowest note on a piccolo is impossibly high for the contra-bass. A mile a minute is low-speed for an airplane. But when you transpose the key of a melody, the tune is the same, though the pitch differs.

Evidently Russia has transposed the key. On the new key, Thomas Jefferson would be a reactionary; Abraham Lincoln an aristocrat; Theodore Roosevelt a conservative; Eugene V. Debs a moderate; Thomas E. Heywood a progressive; and Emma Goldman a radical. But it is the same tune, merely set to a higher pitch.

This is what confuses our understanding, sometimes. We imagine the Russians revolted for the liberties our fathers won for us. We forget that the most conservative of them regard mere liberty as a hopelessly reactionary conception. "The common people like Lincoln loved,"—the small business men and independent mechanics in towns, the small farmers, and their social equivalents—these are regarded as so elevated a special-privilege aristocracy that the dominant faction in Russia now demands that no class so high as theirs shall by even represented in the new government. If the Russian radicals should establish an educational and property qualification for voting, they would say that no man worth over $100, or who had spent more than one year in school, should vote. And as to the "immutable principles" of the declaration of Independence—the most conservative party in Russia regards them as prehistoric.

It is a high key, and it may break the strings.

IN PEACE ALSO

"The whole conception of governmental responsibility for caring for the wounded," says General Gorgas, in announcing the new reconstruction hospitals, "has undergone radical changes during the months of study given the subject by experts." So the wounded soldiers, instead of being merely healed and pensioned, are to be re-educated to some occupation consistent with their condition (frequently a better one than the one they filled before the war), so as to be as well as possible to care for themselves.

This "radical change of conception" is of course what will happen to any such problem when it is subjected to "study by experts." May we not therefore hope that the process will be applied to some civil problems of human wreckage, also? We have been too much inclined to distinguish between the responsibilities of government and the responsibilities of society. Because the soldier is grounded in the service of government, it is the obligation of government to rehabilitate him. Because the industrial victim is wounded in the service of society, it does not follow that he is the responsibility of government, unless we conceive government to be the organ of society. But that is just what we are beginning to learn to do. When we fully learn it, we will regard it as being the destruction of the world.

While it meant the destruction of Europe only, we supinely watched Europe fight it out. When it became clear that had extended to mean the destruction of America also—near in one event and later in another—their choice was closed. The world was at bay, we with it. It was fight or yield.

So we are fighting.

A RETROGRADE MOVEMENT

DOES AMERICA KNOW?

(Ruth Wright Kauffman, special correspondent of The Vigilantes, sends the following appeal from Paris:)

DOES AMERICA KNOW?

That there is a war going on in Europe?

That the WASTAGE on the British front alone is 2,000 MEN A DAY?

That a present of 100,000 AIRSHIPS to the Allies will do no good unless ENGINES are of the sort THAT CAN BE USED at the front?

That when America sends MEN to France, the men must be FED and CLOTHED and given GUNS?

That the MAINTENANCE of an army at the front is the maintenance of a city as big as Chicago suddenly dumped in the middle of a desert?

That England has had to build her own DOCKS in Northern France to receive her transports?

That it's like offering a LIVE ELEPHANT to a baby to offer France American troops without maintenance?

That it's easy to reckon how much tonnage is necessary to transport an army from America to the European continent and how much tonnage is required to feed such an army; that France and England are scarcely able to feed and supply their own armies without influencing their military and economic situation still more and that the submarine warfare is accomplishing all and more than all that was expected of it?" (Michælis in the "Reichs-Tag")

THAT EVERY DAY THERE ARE FEWER MEN LIVING IN THAT THIN HUMAN WALL WHICH DIVIDES GERMANY FROM NEW YORK?

THAT THERE REALLY ARE SUCH THINGS AS SHELLS AND BOMBS AND POISONOUS GAS AND LIQUID FLAME, and that when these things strike you, they HURT?

THAT EITHER:

IT'S UP TO AMERICA TO STRAIN EVERY NERVE OF EVERY INDIVIDUAL AND FINISH THIS WAR PROPERLY.

IT'S UP TO EVERY WORKINGMAN IN THE UNITED STATES TO HAND OVER SO MUCH PER WEEK OUT OF HIS WAGE FOR THE REST OF HIS NATURAL EXISTENCE INTO GERMANY'S POCKET-BOOK, AND PAY FOR THIS WAR PROPERLY.

MUST WAR PUT ITS IRON FINGERS ON THE THROAT OF EACH SMALL TOWN OF THE UNITED STATES BEFORE AMERICA RUBS ITS EYES AND YAWNS AND TRIES TOO LATE TO JUMP OUT OF BED?

World Federation for Peace Already in Being

Now Employing its Military Forces as Police Power for the Arrest of Outlaw Nations

By Wharton Barker

(Copyright, 1917, by The National Editorial Service, Inc.)

The World Federation for Peace, which mankind recognizes as necessary at the close of this war, is no longer a matter of future accomplishment; it is a federation which is now in being. This is a tremendous fact, called since the entrance into the war of the Chinese Republic and as yet more or less ignored but wholly unrealized. It stands as the essential nature of the conflict. From a war waged between nations of sovereign states, equal before the world's bar of justice in pleading their respective causes, the conflict has resolved itself into an enforcement of the world's verdict against those whom it has adjudged to be the offenders. The world has organized, and is now employing its combined forces for the restoration of peace and for the prevention of any future breach of its peace.

From all physical standpoints, the conflict still remains war; but from the social and moral, as well as the legal standpoints, the world's endeavor henceforward are purely the exercise of its police power for the arrest of the offenders.

The position now occupied by those offenders is that of a group of conspirators who, having prepared and agreed upon the commission of murder for the purpose of robbery, did commit murder and did commit robbery. The conspirators remain in possession of the body and persist in defiance of mankind's verdict, rendered against them. Until they shall have been taken into custody and made amenable to the sentence the world must impose upon them, the police powers, which are being employed under the form of military force by the World Federation, must be greatly increased.

More than two years ago the United States witnessed the proposal for a League of Peace, which, apparently, was followed by a steadily widening of the area of war. That widening, however, was in appearance only. With the accession to the ranks of the powerful allied armies, Germany and its accomplice governments, of nations previously neutral, the world gave it to the neutrals any support and may draft them into the Federation for the restoration of peace and order.

"Officers," they said, "it is possible to get a drink in this town?"

"The office led the two dummies up to an imposing church."

"But surely," they said in shocked tones, "we aren't going to get what we want here!"

"Gents," said the officer, solemnly, "do you see that church?"

"Yes," they answered.

"Well, gents," said the officer, "that's the only place in this state where you can't get it."

Fresno's Yesterdays

Taken from the Files of The Fresno Republican.

Forty Years Ago.

Through irregularities in finding of the early volumes of the Republican, the records from January 1, 1877, to January 1, 1878, are missing. Under this heading, therefore, for the next three months, only incidental information will be given. Correspondents are wanted relating to the various trials and other events of the past four decades.

Twenty Years Ago.

Mrs. J. Y. Owen, editor of the Pettit Courier of San Francisco, spent yesterday in this city on her way home from a business trip in Southern California. Mrs. Owen was a school teacher in Fresno in 1874, when the town was in its infancy. It was then an aggregation of frame shanties of the primitive type, standing out boldly on a treeless plain.

The changes wrought since that time, twenty-three years ago, have been marvelous, was the observation made by the lady when interviewed at the Grand Central hotel last evening by a Republican reporter. She could hardly realize, she said, that the present city was built up from the little town of two decades ago.

When Mrs. Owen taught school here she was the only assistant the principal had. The principal was R. H. Bramlett, who was later elected county superintendent of schools and after that county auditor. Mr. Bramlett and Mrs. Owen conducted the school together for one term—that was the first year two teachers were employed.

The lady lived with the family of J. W. Ferguson, publisher of the Examiner, who was one of the district trustees.

Mrs. Owen was completely lost yesterday, as she expressed it, for she could not see a landmark of the primitive town, which had been the change. There was not court house then. Among some of the pioneer Fresnians whom she remembered, and met yesterday, were Mr. Bramlett, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, W. D. Tupper and Judge Sayle. "I think Judge Sayle looks younger now than he did thirty-three years ago," said Mrs. Owen.

The lady is well and popularly known in the publishing circles of the state. Besides being a journalist, her mother was the wife of J. Y. Owen, who founded the San Jose Mercury forty years ago. For over twenty-five years he conducted that pioneer paper. He then sold it to Charles M. Shortridge, the present owner, and subsequently engaged in various publications in San Francisco, where he died some years ago.

Mrs. Owen has gone pluckily forward in the publishing business, and is now conducting the Pettit Courier, which is a bright monthly paper. She is a talented lady and has many friends throughout the state.

She has very pleasant memories of my day at teaching in Fresno," said Mrs. Owen last evening. "The people, many of whom come from the southern states, were very sociable, and we had enjoyable parties every week at the Morrow Cowan house. The character of the residents was such as would ensure a great future for the town if any opportunity were offered for them to work.

The publication will be a very artistic one. It will be made up largely of fine illustrations. The book will be placed in the reading tables of all the leading hotels and resorts in the coast, where they will be perused by a class of people whom it is the desire to attract to this coast.

Mrs. Owen left on the train last night for San Francisco.

MISSOURIAN'S UNFAILING
RAIN FORECASTER

That ducks are good rain indicators is the declaration of Gus R. Aley of Maryville. Whenever a duck goes through the motions of swimming on dry land, he says look out for rain within twenty-four hours. The Tribune says the theory was proved correct. The other day, when a duck was seen apparently swimming delightfully in the dry grass, that night came the rain.—De Ruth County Herald.

Lillian Russell's
Beauty Talks

WASTED GOOD LOOKS
(Copyright, 1917, by Lillian Russell.)

Waste is the great curse of the country. This war will stop it—eventually.

No woman can now plead ignorance of her fault if she wants anything and she who wants the valuable energy and vitality which are her birthright is the source of it—is doing harm just as is the woman who wastes bread.

Waste of energy benefits nobody—preserves your health strength and beauty, and then uses them to some good purpose for your country.

Find yourself—then understand and cultivate yourself. Find out—of what you are capable—then go about to do that work and do it to the best of your ability.

Do not rush into things one day and then be obliged to take three for recuperation.

Give your surplus energy, but your reserve force only in absolute need.

Your nerves are like a little fine spring which keeps your watch going. If you attach that spring to your motor car in the hope of making it from his chair as moral philosopher, says, "If you would live a perfect life, you must so live that every act would command itself to Jesus of Nazareth." The word is striving to carry out His command: "Bear ye one another's burdens."

FATHER'S WORK

How to Accomplish

The desire of men today is "to accomplish." No one worthy of the name of man desires to drift through life with the human tide, but rather to strike out and make life count. A purpose is necessary for this end, just as God in creating had His purpose.

When the working hours are over, dismiss the work from your mind, relax in thought as well as in action, and let you be filled with the anxiety to resume your work again.

Thus you give your best and look your best—and are appreciated best.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL KINGS COUNTY FAIR OPENS

Nearly All the Exhibits
Are Already in Place

BETTER BABIES CONTEST, RACING AND RODEO THE FEATURES

HANFORD, Sept. 16.—Kings county's fifteenth annual fair will open to the public tomorrow morning. With but few exceptions all of the exhibits are in place, and when the gates open, the visitors will find the fair almost complete. The features of the fair this year will be the Better Babies' contest, rodeo and racing. The rodeo will be held daily, though it will be featured in particular during the first two days of the fair. It will be held on the race track, in front of the grand stand. Tomorrow and Tuesday the rodeo will begin at 2 p. m., and last until 5 o'clock, the program being repeated. On Wednesday the racing will begin, program being arranged for every afternoon until the closing.

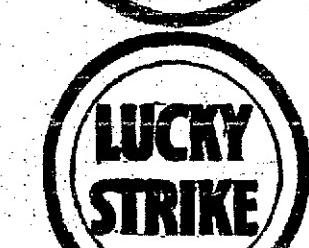

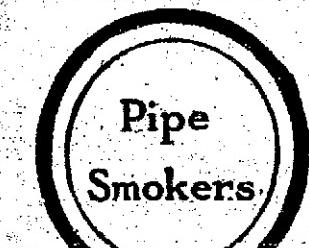

Entries in the Better Babies contest close tomorrow night, while judging will begin on Tuesday morning. All of last year's winners have been entered. Many more entries have been secured this year, and a special pavilion has been erected in which to hold the contest, the prospects are that the contest will be even more popular than it was last year.

Special arrangements have been made in regard to music so that there will be plenty of it, afternoon and night. During the afternoon, when's band will play, while at night a special orchestra will provide the music for the dancing.

The names of the performers who will take part in the rodeo are: "Cactus Bush Bill," a world's champion bulldogger; "Cecil Briner," Rose Walker, champion woman rider from Saltines; "Neway" Alle Hawkins, lady champion at the recent San Francisco rodeo; "Tricky" McDaniel, champion trick rider; "Bull" Hawkins, champion bull rider; "Big Horn" Kendall, champion bronco rider; "Death Valley" Bill Montgomery, first man to build a steer from an auto; "Coal Black" Rose Greenway, champion colored wild west rider, together with a score of other lesser lights, who will help to make the rodeo a daily attraction.

TO ATTEND STATE MEETING.
VISALIA, Sept. 15.—Miss Marie Carter, county purchasing agent for Tulare county, leaves Tuesday for Oakland, where she will attend the convention of purchasing agents of the state, which will be in session a few days in that city.

OWEN-ELLIS WEDDING, SURPRISE AT SANGER

SANGER, Sept. 16.—The many friends of Miss Velma Ellis, of Sanger, and Mr. Harry Owen, of Del Rey, will be happily surprised to learn of their marriage, at the home of the bride, on Saturday evening, September 16, 1917.

The wedding was very simple and a glad surprise to the relatives and friends who were invited over to spend a pleasant evening with the Ellis family. Rev. M. M. Smith, the pastor of the Baptist church at Sanger, united them in marriage. Mrs. Smith, the pastor's wife, played the wedding march. Little Lucile Ellis bore the wedding ring on a lovely pink blossom, also leading the way into the room.

After the wedding the happy couple received the congratulations of their many friends. Present present were Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Ellis, the bride's parents; Lucile Ellis, Edward Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Barnett; Mr. and Mrs. Denton; Mrs. Kate Friend and Miss Ha Friend.

CHOWCHILLA OPENS NEW HIGH SCHOOL

CHOWCHILLA, Sept. 16.—The event of the week at Chowchilla was the opening of the new high school building. All schools opened Monday, but at the high school students were only enrolled, and then dismissed until Thursday, to allow time for arranging the furnishings in some of the rooms.

As finally equipped, the plant is one of the most complete to be found in the state. Saturday evening the public, on invitation of the board of trustees, assembled for exercises marking the completion and opening of the building.

County Superintendent, Craig Cunningham, and President A. W. Cook, of the trustees, delivered two of the most interesting talks, and there were several musical numbers, including selections by the school band.

Mr. and Mrs. Decatur and family of Lemoore were Sunday guests at J. E. Barton's.

A very enjoyable dancing party was held at the Fred S. Savage ranch Wednesday evening.

The Three Rivers school opened on September 17, with Miss Rose Hahn of Los Angeles as teacher. School in the Sulphur Springs district was postponed a week on account of pink eye and tonsilitis, which prevailed to quite an extent among the people.

Guests at the Black ranch at present include Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gardner and son James, and John Gardner of Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gardner of El Dorado, Mexico, and Mrs. J. J. Blitch and E. O. Nay of Pasadena. The gentlemen will go on a hunting trip to the high mountains.

The many friends of Mrs. Hattie Barton will be sorry to learn that she had the misfortune to break her ankle last week. She was riding on an apple tree with her son Ralph, when the team started to run. Mrs. Barton stepped off, but the motion of the steed threw her down. She was getting along nicely at the last report.

PLANS FOR LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MEETING

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 16.—Preparation for a Laymen's Missionary Convention, to be held in Bakersfield November 7, 8 and 9, a meeting of the ministers and leading missionary workers of the city met yesterday afternoon in St. Paul's Gulf hall. Mrs. Paul Raymond, of San Francisco, secretary of the World's Missionary Congress, held in connection with the exposition in 1915, and W. D. Landis, of Los Angeles, secretary of the men's section, spoke before the meeting and assisted in outlining the work necessary to launch it successfully.

It is expected that fully 500 prominent workers will attend, including five men from New York who have been in all the great conventions held during the past few years, and also a number of missionaries and world travelers. It will be an efficiency meeting and will call out all the church workers in the county. During the convention two separate meetings will be maintained in two audience rooms, one for the men and one for the women, the same speakers addressing the meetings in rotation.

J. E. and E. D. Harton went to Mineral King last Tuesday.

Major and Mrs. Burnham are expected home soon from an extensive trip along the coast and to Yosemite. E. H. Masonbridge of Lemon Cove was a business caller here last week. Robt. Tomlinson has moved his family into the house just north of the Three Rivers store.

Mr. and Mrs. Decatur and family of Lemoore were Sunday guests at J. E. Barton's.

She was getting along nicely at the last report.

Dr. W. T. Jamison was called to San Jose, where the funeral of his mother, Mrs. M. E. Jamison, took place Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hansen returned today after spending the week at the State fair in Sacramento.

Mrs. Emma Vandwick, mother of Mr. Frank Maglind, left recently for San Francisco, to nurse her daughter's children while they undergo throat operations.

Ducks are not as numerous in the swamps as they were a month ago, nevertheless there are still thousands.

Five game wardens have been guarding them recently, three of whom are camped near the San Luis ranch, between Salt slough and the San Joaquin river.

At the meeting of the city trustees this week an order was made to secure a gate valve for the domestic water system of the city which is connected with the old fire system of the city. It was before the better system was installed, that in case of accident to the old pipes which are still held as a reserve in case of emergency, the fire system must be cut out, while repairs are being made. Several times during accidents to the old pipes, the domestic water supply has been endangered until repairs were made and it is intended to remove this danger.

Wells W. Warner of the inland pathology lab at Bakersfield, has been summoned to Modesto to take his army physical examination on the 18th.

Harry Lachmund, who has been in charge of the crew at Eller Meadow, passed his army physical examinations last month, but was allowed postponement of calling up to the fourth quota, on account of his investigative work for the government in connection with certain white fly studies. This month Mr. Lachmund purposed taking the Bureau of Plant Industry examinations for assistant in the office of Forest Pathologist.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Cleek of Richmond, have been guests at the San Joaquin power house. Mrs. Cleek, who is Mrs. Elmer Gates' sister, will remain over the week.

Elmer C. Jordan, relative of Chester M. Jordan, Mr. H. W. Hefflinger and Mr. Allen Dodd recently outfit at Northfork for a ten day hunting trip in the Kafner Peak country.

The Hogue camp at Northfork has been discontinued, owing to the necessity of Mrs. Hogue's return to the ranch to oversee the drying of the apple crop. Mrs. McAllister, her sister, accompanies her. Her mother, Mrs. Peterson, has concluded her visit and returned to her home in Watsonville.

The Knight twins, after completing two years of high school studies, are about to enter business college.

Mrs. Morrow has gone to Sacramento to say good-bye to her son, Ed, who has been called to the National army.

September 12, Julian Lovell left for Fresno with fifty-three head of prime hogs, representing the turn-off of several Northern stock owners.

Miss Nellie James of Los Angeles will open the Castle Park school on Monday the 17th.

At Crane Valley dam a regular deer fox has been captured. The animal is a half grown gray fellow of adventurous spirit. The other day it took a notion to investigate the big dam, and then getting interested, he walked out on the pontoon bridge and even climbed up the 25-foot iron ladder the water control tower. Returning to the bridge it discovered a threatening dog, cutting him off from the dam, but he soon gave the dog the laugh by reclimbing the ladder of the tower. But once up he made the mistake of falling through a hole. At this point he lay down and Reymond was caught in a sack as he swam round and round in the water. The fox is now on exhibition and apparently enjoying its captivity.

PATTERSON, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Nellie Duncan entertained Friday evening Saturday forenoon her mother, Mrs. M. B. Dearing of Visalia and her brother-in-law and sister, Mrs. J. W. Duncan of Woodward.

Judge and Mrs. Whitehurst of Newman were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Logan, Thursday.

Wilfred H. Tully of San Jose visited his former college friend, Wm. Logan, Saturday. Mr. Tully is a lawyer.

Walter Little returned from Fresno, Wednesday, accompanied by his friend, Harry Haydock, of Tulare.

Mr. Hydock was called to military service on the second draft and will go into the training camp at American Lake, Wash., September 19.

Rev. Claude Smith returned from Fresno, Friday, where he attended the district conference of the Methodist church this week.

George Smith, of Pasadena, is a Patterson visitor, being on business.

Mrs. Cosgrove, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woldridge this week, returned to her home at Oakland, Saturday.

PREPARE FOR KERN
FAIR MOTOR RACES

LINDSAY, Sept. 16.—At the annual meeting of the Lindsay Fruit Association, the seven directors have been reelected. At the meeting of the Packing House com., at the following officers and directors were elected: H. C. Morrison, president, G. V. Reed, vice-president and R. E. Eddy, secretary. Directors: G. V. Reed, H. C. Morrison, C. B. Fair, G. H. Morrisfield, M. R. Aldbury, G. W. Ehrenford and J. P. Key. T. E. Anderson is manager. At a recent meeting of the Central California Citrus Exchange, the same officers and directors were elected. R. S. Rider was again named as manager of the citrus exchange with headquarters at Lindsay.

Program Will Follow at Once After That in Fresno

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 16.—Plans for a great motor racing meet to be held at the Kern County Agricultural fair, Sunday, October 5, were completed at a meeting of the association in the fair offices in the Kern County Land Company building, at which time Paul C. Derkum was given entire charge of the events. Cash to the extent of $2,000 is put up by the association for the racing matinee, which will consist of light and heavy car races in several heats and a motorcycle grind.

With the Fresno fair immediately preceding the Kern county event, and $4,500 in prizes hung out there, it is expected that many of the race artists who winter on the coast will arrive from the east in time to take part in both events. Derkum left last night for Los Angeles where he is to line up the southern speed boys and he will visit San Francisco next week to line up northern competitors.

Great interest is being taken in the motor exhibition and races which will be a large part of the fair this year.

Already a number of dealers have signed displays in the auto show tent and Secretary Burke expects to have a demand greater than the capacity toll will cover. Many of the dealers will make special efforts to have the newest models on display. Both the Automobile Dealers Association and the Agricultural Fair Association have given Derkum the heartiest support in the race meet.

The advertising crew which is in the county now devoting its interest to billing the coming fair is visiting every community from the mountains to the plain and from desert to oilfield. Six men are engaged in this work under the direction of L. G. Chapman and J. W. Jennings who is also looking after stock displays.

Tentative programs of music, speeches and free events were planned for each of the four days. On this latter subject, Secretary T. F. Burke promises some interesting information later.

LOS BANOS

LOS BANOS, Sept. 16.—The State traffic law requiring lights on vehicles is not being observed by many drivers of rigs drawn by horses in this community. Especially those who haul cream to town after night.

As William Fahey and family, Frank Norton and Waldo Dickens, were leaving town Friday night, the steering gear of their automobile became loose, causing the car to leave the road and overturn. All the occupants were thrown out, and the only one injured was the eldest son, William. He was brought to town and an x-ray examination made.

Dr. W. T. Jamison was called to San Jose, where the funeral of his mother, Mrs. M. E. Jamison, took place Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hansen returned today after spending the week at the State fair in Sacramento.

Mrs. Emma Vandwick, mother of Mr. Frank Maglind, left recently for San Francisco, to nurse her daughter's children while they undergo throat operations.

W. H. Blair and T. L. Hull were motor visitors at Poppy recently.

Miss Verna Monroe is attending high school at Porterville, this being her first term.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Holl and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Blair were visitors at Tulare recently.

George Rauch of Porterville was a visitor in this district recently.

Philip Kouzenikas, Ray Williams and Idaho Bradbury expect to attend High school this term at Tulare, beginning September 17.

Mr. O. B. Demricks and daughter, Miss Pauline and son Robert, have returned home from a three weeks' vacation at Los Angeles, Santa Ana and the beaches, making the trip by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunsaker, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barling and Miss Della Furman were motor visitors at Bakersfield Sunday.

School started Monday morning with an attendance of forty-nine scholars.

The W. T. Williams home was the scene Tuesday night of a social gathering which was given for the Sunday school. About forty were present. The evening was spent with a pleasant program and games.

Boys will make every effort to accomplish something and every one is urged to participate.

Mr. Dallinger of Fresno has been engaged as band instructor and will assist in the band evening concerts.

W. A. Chevenger, C. A. Bassett and Joseph Phinney, returned from Berkeley Tuesday.

Walter Bunn, Lou Crumble and Lee Ruth left Tuesday for a trip to Oklahoma and Arkansas.

They know what a savings bank book is. A Scout may forfeit his badge unless he has one of his own, with at least a dollar entered therein which he earned himself.

Printing directions, with or without a compass, is a commonplace matter with Scouts. Swimming is required for the first class badge.

First aid to the injured is thoroughly learned, from incident to hospital. Map reading and map reading are fundamental in scout training. Every scout knows the useful trees, vegetables and animals.

But all this knowledge, useful as it is, does not make the Scout. He is the doer and his mission. In a word, the Scout is inoculated with the virus of good citizenship, and it stays with him once it gets in.

There are 260,000 Boy Scouts in the United States. There are 300,000 young men in America who had boy scouts training in their boyhood. The doing of a "good turn daily" is a habit with all of them.

When the men of a community are engaged in stern duties the Scouts can patrol the reservoirs, the telegraph lines, the roads. They would help in industries. They would do anything and everything that boys could do, and do it all with a spirit so cheerful that it would lighten, to some extent, the gloom of war.

MACHINE GUN BOYS HONOR FLAG ON ITS BIRTHDAY

Only Guards and Cooks at Work in Camp Kearny; Soldiers Are Well

Want 20 More Fresno Boys; Troopers Need Good Pitcher

By CRAIG H. POTTER.

CAMP KEARNY, Sept. 14.—Today being the one hundred and fortieth anniversary of the birth of the nation's flag we are celebrating with a general holiday throughout the camp. General orders were issued last night that the buglers sound "to the colors" immediately after assembly for reveille and every soldier in camp stood at attention from "Taps" to the last note in honor of "Old Glory." Before being dismissed we were informed that there would be no drill today and no fatigue details were appointed so the only men at work today are the cooks and those appointed for guard duty.

Everyone has recovered from the effects of the paratyphoid inoculation last Tuesday and all reported for the setting-up exercises before breakfast this morning.

Colorado Soldiers Arrive.

A battalion of engineers from Colorado arrived last night after a four days' trip. They were the first troops to come since our arrival and as Camp Kearny is to be the mobilization camp for the National Guard organizations of the west, troop trains will be rolling in daily.

Nearly every mail contains boxes and packages for the boys from the folks at home, and the contents are greatly appreciated. A large box arrived the other day addressed to our mess fund containing tobacco for everybody and a note wishing all the boys luck signed by Howard Fisher and Leon Marshall.

Lieutenant Madison is off on a furlough enjoying a motor trip with his folks and Miss Dorothy Forsey, who are here for a short visit.

James W. (Bey) Brown and Thomas Calligan arrived in San Diego yesterday, having motored down from Fresno after a stop in Los Angeles for a short visit. They were out to camp today to visit the boys and had dinner with us. We were all glad to see them and hear that they will stay around here for several days.

C. E. Burke and L. L. Hawes, who have been in the hospital for some time, are well again and back with the troops.

E. C. Calligan, who has been under observation at the base hospital for the past week, will be given his discharge tomorrow by order of the surgeon in command.

Recruits Are Needed.

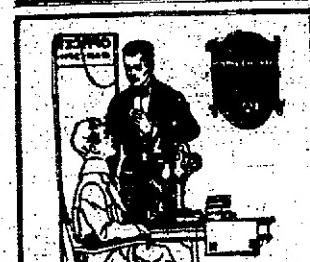

Our troop is still twenty men short and Captain Stephenson is very anxious that the vacancies be filled by enlistments from Fresno and if they are not filled up soon by the fellows from home this troop will be brought up to war strength with drafted men. We also want a good baseball pitcher. Captain Hemphill has a team now that is showing lots of speed, but is a little weak in the box. For further particulars see Hon. Wm. F. Toomey, mayor of Fresno.

MEXICAN LABORER CUT BY UNKNOWN

Pascual Medel, who was arrested Saturday night on suspicion of having cut Frank Lars, the same night, still is being held in jail. Lars, employed on the Good ranch, was found nearly unconscious on a sidewalk in Chinatown. He was treated at the emergency hospital, where it was found one of his ears was cut nearly off and a large gash across his cheek to his mouth.

"THE SUN-MAID" SONG
IS MAKING A HIT

"The Sun-Maid Song" is what they are calling the latest ballad just put on sale through the valley. Words and music are clever and are making a hit. Ask to hear it at Falkenstein's Music House. The title of the song is "In the Valley of the San Joaquin."

GOOD WORK
should not be expected of your boy if his eyes are not perfect. He may need Fit-U-Spectacles. Our scientifically accurate examinations will tell whether or not they will benefit him. Arrangements for an examination at once.

Boy, Bicycle and 9c
Brought to Fresno
by Deputy Sheriff

George Little, 15 years old, a negro, son of Rev. Allen R. Little, of Bowles, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Johnson after a complaint had reached the sheriff's office to the effect that the boy had burglarized the home of Z. Tarzan between Bowles and Fresno.

The boy was riding a bicycle and evidently stopped to get a drink. Finding no one about the place so far as he could see, young Little took a butcher knife he found on the well structure and sawed through a screen of one of the back windows and entered the house. Tarzan says.

Tarzan was a short distance from the house, but hidden from view and was attracted by the noise of the sawing, and hurried to the house to find the window open.

As he entered the back door, but not quick enough to get astride his wheel. The man and boy ran for some distance but the boy was hampered in trying to run with the bicycle, and had to give up.

Deputy Johnson asked the boy what he wanted to get into the house for.

"Did you think you would be able to pick up some loose change in that house?" asked Johnson.

"Oh, no, I didn't have any such idea at all," replied the boy. "I just thought you'd be there." In running back, and sure enough, when the deputy searched him he found a buffalo nickel and four pennies.

The lad is in the custody of the detention home.

HOOVER WRITES TO HEALTH OFFICER

Selma Woman's Food Bill
Brought Before Food
Administrator

In response to information sent to the United States food administration at Washington, Dr. G. L. Long, county health officer of Fresno, regarding the food expenses for one month, of Mrs. J. S. Shaffer of Selma, showing that she maintained and fed her family of seven children, besides herself and husband, at a cost of 25 cents a day for each person, or 8 cents a meal for each person. Dr. Long has received the following letter:

"Dear Dr. Long.—Mr. Hoover has asked me to thank you for your kind letter of recent date, containing a most interesting report of a reliable mother of a prominent family." We note also your comments in regard to waste of food. Your estimate of the saving of $750,000,000 a year through prevention of waste is very near that made by the department of agriculture.

Certainly any effort that can be directed toward food saving is of critical importance at the present time.

"I am sending you a copy of our Bulletin No. 6 and one of our home cards, giving an idea of our general program. Again thanking you."

Dr. Long invites others to come forward with statements of their food expenses for one month for families large or small, based on the Hoover plan of food conservation. These statements, he says, will bring under the notice of the food administration.

The arrangements for the celebration therein, charge of Alejandro Garcia, Director, Hospital, Francisco Aguirre and Domingo Galli. Speeches were made by Roberto Lunn and Alberto Montiel, both of Los Angeles, and Joe Diaz, Juan Mendez and Lewis Clarin of Fresno. The fight for the freedom of Mexico was extolled.

Proceeds from the dance and reception will be given to the Fresno county orphanage.

From the story heard by Inspector Fruxas, Enoch and Evans and Sergeant Truxas, it appears that Ruiz went to the camp yesterday afternoon and met Pedro Sandoval, who was accused by Soto of stealing his wife. The men quarreled and the pick handle figured prominently. Pilar Avila took it upon himself to enter the fray and was shot for his trouble.

Ruiz is being held in jail.

SHOOTING CAUSED BY MANY ANGLED FIGHT

Pilar Avila, a Mexican, has dinner at the county hospital as the result of a Mexican row at Santa Fe and Ventura yesterday afternoon in a barroom camp of railroad laborers. He was shot through the lungs, but has a fighting chance for his life, according to the surgeons.

The police say they have a confession from Monica Ruiz in which he is alleged to have admitted that he shot Avila after Avila had started after him with a pick handle.

Society Notes

A quiet wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. W. Pearce, 1403 San Pablo avenue, when William D. Howard of Clovis, and Miss Alberta Cox of Los Angeles, were united in marriage. Rev. J. H. Hodges of the Normal Methodist church officiated. Miss Myrtle Kuhn of San Francisco and Lloyd Howard, brother of the groom, were the only wedding attendants. Mrs. C. E. Morse presided at the piano. Following the ceremony the young couple left for Los Angeles and San Diego, where the honeymoon is to be spent, and upon their return will reside on the groom's ranch near Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Almgren are rejoicing over the arrival of a little son, born September 14. Mrs. Almgren before her marriage, was Miss Zilpha Banister.

SEEKING PLAN TO FORESTALL DEBTS

Tomorrow morning a meeting will be held by C. K. Bonestell, Harry Barber and D. S. Ewing in regard to formulating plans to relieve men of financial obligations while they are in the military or navy service.

Following breakfast an hour's Bible study will be held, conducted by Miss Lathammer.

In the afternoon a conference of all intermediate superintendents of the county was held. The conference discussed local work, and plans for the state intermediate work for the year.

GIVES MINISTER AND MONEY IN CAUSE OF ARMENIA

Rev. M. G. Papazian Goes on Lecture Tour to Arouse Sympathy

Pilgrim Armenian Church
Gives $1,000 to Meet
Campaign Expenses

To rouse the practical sympathy of the American people in the cause of the Armenian race, Rev. M. G. Papazian, pastor of the Pilgrim Armenian church, leaves tonight on an extended lecture tour across the continent under the auspices of the American relief committee in New York. The church has released the pastor from his immediate duties so that he may devote himself entirely to the work. It has also voted $1,000 toward the expenses of the campaign. Rev. Papazian will be gone two months.

Rev. Papazian has said that the campaign had a two-fold aim to foster American participation in the expounding of the ultimate significance of the great war, and also he said more immediately to enlist the active sympathy of the nation in the awful plight of the martyred Armenian race.

After that he will continue his tour.

Rev. Papazian's first stopping place on his tour is Colorado Springs, where he will speak on Thursday evening, September 20. He is scheduled to deliver two addresses at the National Council in Columbus, Ohio, on October 10 and October 16.
